Commissioning Complete at Dragon LNG
Milford Haven, 1 September 2009

Dragon LNG's new liquefied natural gas terminal at Waterston, Milford Haven in South West Wales has successfully completed its commissioning phase and has now commenced commercial operation.

The ability to import LNG is a significant component within UK's long-term energy strategy and the new terminal; the result of international inward investment from Dragon's three shareholders. BG Group (50%), Petronas (30%) 4Gas (20%) can supply up to 5% of current UK demand with the ability to send out 6 billion cubic metres of natural gas per annum to the UK's National Transmission System.

The new terminal has been hailed by local community leaders as of great benefit to the local community in terms of employment and economic activity and is recognised by the UK government as a vitally important component of the UK's long term energy strategy; highlighting the importance of Pembrokeshire and the port of Milford Haven as a strategic energy hub.

Notes to editors

Dragon LNG is a stand alone business financed by three industry shareholders, BG Group (50%), Petronas (30%) and 4Gas (20%).

BG and Petronas between them have contracted for the full capacity at Dragon LNG's Milford Haven site over the next 20 years.
